ing that is obviously justified by present indications. But this feeling is qualtfied by the fact that the cotton season price has lately undergone a large and comparatively sudden drop. The bearish operations of speculators in the com-modity are, therefore, restrained.

Seek to Advance Prices. It is plain in the case of wheat and corn, especially the latter article, that there is a strong speculative element working to advance the quotations of the leading options. To most people these operations seem dangerous when due consideration is had of the very large advance in the last six weeks in the price of corn and coarse grains and the large reserve atores of the staples now in farmers' hands and of the genally good prospect for the new crop. Conservative people also bear in mind the circumstances that the present season is at least a fortnight earlier than usual, and that the agricultural year is really, except in the case of cotton, nearing its close. To-day more or less was made of stories of black rust in Minneand more hot and dry weather regarding corn. Because of this a sharp rise occurred in wheat and corn. although earlier in the day weakness prevailed The Lackawanna Steel Com-pany to-day made a rather poor report for the first half of the present year; but, on the other hand, the Iron Age in its weekly summary was distinctly optimistic as to steel trade conditions, declaring that 75 per cent of the mill capacity in the Pittsburg district was fully employed, that a strong inquiry was spring up for pig iron in many markets, and that the whole finished steel market was decidedly better than it was thirty days since. In the present week thus far the banks have again been a heavy loser to the

POUNDMASTER IS WANTED.

Successor to Mr. Einstein to Bo Named Soon, A dozen applications for the position of A dozen applications for the poundmaster of the District have been poundmaster of the District have been poundmaster Johnston since received by Commissioner Johnston since Samuel Einstein's thirty-eight years' in-cumbency of that office was brought to a close by his death last Sunday.

The position of poundmaster is one coveted by many. A salary of $1.500 a year is the remuneration, and the duties are to rid the community of objection—able animals, chiefly dogs. The pound master has a number of assistants, and the office comes under the direct supervision of the health department.

Mr. Einstein's successor will be appointed by Commissioner Johnston upon recommendation of Health Officer Wood-

Firemen's Pensions Awarded.
